ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE JOINT MEETING OF THE INTERNATIONAL PRIMATOLOGICAL SOCIETY AND THE MALAYSIAN PRIMATOLOGICAL SOCIETY AUGUST 19 – 25, 2023 KUCHING, MALAYSIA, BORNEO

The Joint Meeting of the International Primatological Society (IPS) and the Malaysian Primatological Society will be held from 19th to 25th August, 2023 in Kuching, Sarawak, Malaysian Borneo. The 29th edition of the biennial global congress will happen over a span of 7-days at the Borneo Convention Centre Kuching (BCKK) and will include various keynote sessions, plenary sessions, discussions and workshops, exhibitions, and site visits around Sarawak and more. Complete conference information is available at the Congress website (<https://ipskuching.com/>). The Early Bird registration is now open until March 31st, 2023 while the Standard registration will take place from April 1st to August 1st 2023.

IPS is a multidisciplinary association of approximately 1200 professionals and students whose work is focused on nonhuman primates. In the last decades, the biennial IPS Congresses have attracted between 650 and 1600 registrants (there were 1000 registrants for the 2010 Congress in Kyoto, 650 registrants for the 2012 Congress in Cancún, 900 for the 2014 Congress in Hanoi, 1500 for the 2016 Congress in Chicago, and 850 for the 2018 Congress in Nairobi). IPS members include veterinarians, geneticists, psychologists, physicians, neuroscientists, anthropologists, zoologists, conservation biologists, ethologists, zoo professionals, technical personnel, and field assistants; primarily from universities, NGOs, zoological parks, field stations, sanctuaries, and research facilities throughout the world. Both captive and field scientists are active members of this society, so there is great interest in data acquisition and analysis equipment and programs; tracking, navigation, and recording equipment; sanctuaries; databases; conservation efforts and organizations; research and biomedical instrumentation; books, journals and other information resources; captive enrichment devices, caging, diets, etc.

The Malaysian Primatological Society (MPS) is one of the affiliated primate societies of IPS. MPS collaborates and works with local universities, the public, and governmental and non-governmental agencies to build a platform for students, researchers and the public to participate in Malaysian primate conservation. Memberships are open to national and international citizens of all ages and backgrounds who are interested in volunteering with MPS to conduct various primate conservation programs in Malaysia.

It is our hope that you will contribute to the success of the IPS-MPS Joint Meeting by exhibiting materials from your organization. Attendees will be free to examine the exhibits at their leisure from Monday morning through Friday afternoon. Exhibitors will be acknowledged in the Congress program.
